

National Archaeology Day at the ROM

Saturday 20th October 2012
11am-4pm

All over North America Institutions are hosting events to celebrate National Archaeology Day. Join us at the ROM and take part too. Meet archaeologists, museum experts and historical re-enactors and take part in archaeologically-themed events for all the family in the galleries. Hear talks in the Signy and Cléopée Eaton Theatre (Level 1B).

- 11.30am Clemens Reichel (ROM)
Mesopotamia comes first! A preview of the 2013 blockbuster exhibition
- 1.30pm Justin Jennings (ROM)
Death and Destruction at La Real: Mortuary Rituals and Social Change in Pre-Columbian Peru
- 2.30pm Derek B. Counts (University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee)
An Archaeology of Religion: Sculpted Images and their Context in Cypriot Sanctuaries
- 3.30pm Carol C. Mattusch (George Mason University, Virginia)
Lost Wax/Found History: Modern Bronze Technology and Ancient Bronze Statues

All events are free with Museum admission

Sponsored by the A.G. Leventis Foundation and the Archaeological Institute of America

For further details visit the ROM events calendar:

http://www.rom.on.ca/programs/rom_kids/weekends/index.php?ref=showinfo&program_id=8130

