El estudiante/ The Student a film by Santiago Mitre.

Filed in 2011, Mitre's directorial debut, is a small-budget, independent film that very quickly rose from relative obscurity to gain national and international critical acclaim and become a box-office hit.

The film portrays the initiation into a life of politics of a young student in the context of the highly politicized environment of Latin American public universities. This is a story about ethics and politics that provides a fascinating insight into student life at one of Latin America's largest and most prestigious university, the University of Buenos Aires, in Argentina (founded in 1821).

Duration: 112 mins.
