

Digitizing Early Manuscripts at the Harvard Law School Library

Medieval Lecture Series
St. Jerome's University and the University of Waterloo

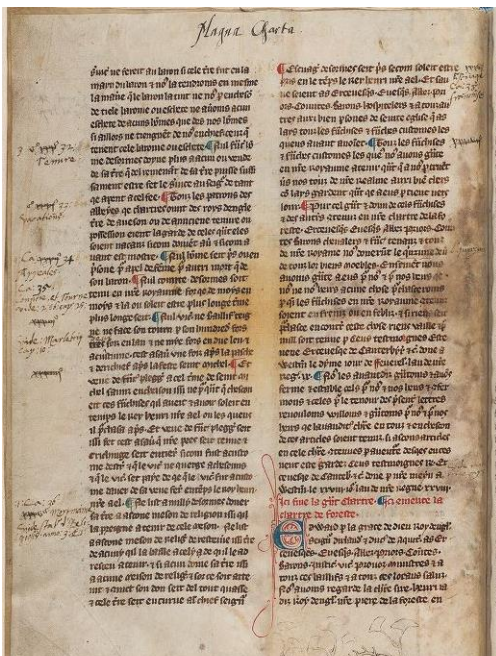

WORKSHOP ANNOUNCEMENT:

Enjoy cheese and pastries, relaxed conversation, and a discussion of Harvard's innovative library digitization program.

WHEN: Thursday, 28 September 2017, 4:30-6:00

WHERE: St. Jerome's University, SJ2-2002
Reception: 4:30
Lecture: following the reception

WHO: Karen Beck

England. Magna Carta Cum Statutis, ca. 1325. Manuscript.
HLS MS 12. Harvard Law School Library.

Karen Beck discusses the Harvard Law School Library's robust digitization program, focusing on the early manuscript collection. She presents highlights from the collection and explains why the Library has made digitization a priority. Her lecture describes the steps and people involved, as well as the challenges, successes, and lessons learned through the process.

❖
Karen Beck is Manager of Historical & Special Collections at Harvard Law School Library.

❖
This is the first event in the 2017 – 2018 Medieval Lecture Series. The lecture series highlights the forty-five-year history of Medieval Studies on our campus. It promotes communication, encourages collaboration, and enhances the interdisciplinary heart of Medieval Studies.

Co-Sponsored by Medieval Studies and the St. Jerome's University Library

ST. JEROME'S
UNIVERSITY

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO

