Symposium

Drama and Religion 1555-1575:

The Chester Cycle in Context

May 21 -24, 2010

The Chester 2010 Symposium capitalizes on the latest research on the texts of the biblical Cycle plays, their cultural context, and the resurgence of interest in the performance of religious and community plays.

Symposium and performance events do not conflict. Schedules, travel, accommodation, symposium registration, and other details can be found at
