UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO MISSISSAUGA

Assistant Professor – Theatre Studies

The Department of English and Drama at the University of Toronto Mississauga (UTM) invites applications for a three-year limited term appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor, starting on July 1, 2013.

Applicants must hold a PhD in Theatre and demonstrate their qualification to teach an introductory historical survey, contemporary performance theory, and special topics courses in theatre history and/or theory; all courses may incorporate practical workshop components. Clear evidence of excellence in research and teaching is required.

Duties consist of teaching undergraduate courses in the Theatre and Drama Studies programs at UTM, conducting research, and participating in department administration. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

UTM is part of the tri-campus University of Toronto, a research-intensive institution with a strong interdisciplinary commitment, a multicultural student body, a wide range of collaborative programs and institutes, and one of the largest library systems in North America. The University offers the opportunity to conduct research, teach, and live in one of the most diverse cities in the world.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply at <https://utoronto.taleo.net/careersection/10050/jobdetail.ftl?job=176462>.

Applications should include a cover letter (attach the cover letter separately rather than using the plain text area provided on the website), curriculum vitae, teaching dossier (including a statement of teaching philosophy), a statement outlining current and future research interests, and ONE writing sample of scholarly work of not more than 25 pages. If you have questions about this position, please contact holger.syme@utoronto.ca. All application materials should be submitted online. The U of T application system can accommodate up to five attachments (10 MB) per candidate profile; please combine attachments into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>.

Applicants should also arrange for graduate transcripts and at least three letters of reference (or a dossier) to be sent via email (on letterhead, signed, and scanned) directly to the department, at edassist.utm@utoronto.ca. The deadline for applications is April 14, 2013.

For further information on the UTM Department of English and Drama and our Theatre and Drama Studies programs, see <http://www.utm.utoronto.ca/english-drama>.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, members of sexual minority groups, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.
