

Instructional Limited Term Appointment in Performance at the rank of Lecturer

Job Summary

The Department of Dramatic Arts in the Marilyn I. Walker School of Fine and Performing Arts at Brock University invites applications for a two-year instructional limited term appointment in performance at the rank of Lecturer, starting July 1st, 2015. The position is subject to final budgetary approval.

Qualifications

The successful candidate must hold an MFA in acting, or have equivalent professional experience, as well as an exemplary portfolio in professional theatre performance. Applicants should be able to teach intensive studio courses where extensive experiential practice is based on the instructor's strong theoretical understanding of their field.

A teaching dossier should show excellence at the post secondary or conservatory level. Expertise in a range of acting approaches would be an asset including (but not exclusively) vocal coaching, mask, movement, stage combat, improvisation, and classical performance.

The successful candidate will teach courses such as DART 1P99: Introduction to Performance, DART 2F50 Performance I, DART 3F50 Performance II, DART 2P11 Voice I and DART 3P09: Commedia dell' Arte and Improvisation. The course load will be 4/4, or 4 full credits per academic year. The candidate may be called upon to propose and/or to direct a departmental main-stage production or other public performance event.

The salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications.

Notes

The Department of Dramatic Arts offers a BA Honours in Dramatic Arts. For Honours students, Concentrations are available in Performance, Applied Theatre and Drama in Education, Production and Design, and Theatre Praxis. The Department also offers a four-year (20 credit) BA with Major Dramatic Arts degree and a three-year BA Pass degree, as well as two concurrent BA (Honours)/BEEd programs over five/six years. For more information, see <http://www.brocku.ca/dramaticarts>.

Located at the centre of Canada's beautiful Niagara peninsula in St. Catharines, Ontario, we are a community of learners and researchers with a strong and expanding regional base, with excellent resources in cultural, social, and athletic enrichment. Canadian and American metropolitan centers are within easy distance.

In 2015 the entire Marilyn I. Walker School will move to its new home at the site of an historic building in downtown St. Catharines, adjacent to a new regional performing arts centre built by the City of St. Catharines. The move will potentially facilitate interdisciplinary collaborations with other colleagues in the MIWSFPA in the fine new facilities.

Applications will include a cover letter, a letter of intent that includes the candidate's teaching approach, with emphasis on how they would teach scene study; current curriculum vitae; and a teaching dossier that includes professional highlights. In addition, candidates will provide the names of three referees who will be contacted in the event of a short listing. Please address applications to:
