

We want to learn more about living with prostate cancer. We're hoping you can help.

Patients who take part get $125 for the telephone interviews or

$400 for the diaries to thank them for their time.

Researchers at Ipsos Healthcare want to learn about the experiences and needs of people with prostate cancer. This research study is for patients.

Research is always voluntary!

At any time during the process you can withdraw if you no longer want to continue. Your responses are confidential, and there will be no follow-up or attempt to sell you anything.

Would the study be a good fit for me?

This study might be a good fit for you if:

- You have been diagnosed with prostate cancer.
- You have receive treatment to lower your hormone levels.
- You are willing to help us understand what it's like to walk a mile in your shoes.

What would happen if I took part in the study?

If you decide to take part in the study, you would possibly participate in either of two ways:

- You may take part in a 60 minute telephone interview.
- You may be asked to keep a diary/journal for a week. You will be given a blank journal with some writing prompts.

There may be possible benefits if you take part in the study. Past participants have commented that the experience allowed them to gain a deeper understanding of themselves and that they appreciated the opportunity to express themselves in a special way.
